Update 15.2.2019

Welcome to Kingsnorth House!

We want you to be as comfortable and happy here as possible. In order for this to happen there are a couple of important bits of information that we want to share with you.

Although the main pieces of information will be found in this booklet, if you have any other questions, please don't hesitate to ask one of the adults in the home. As well as this, there will be lots of information leaflets available to you inside the home.

Remember that are here to for you and that you can speak to us about any of your concerns or worries, no question is too silly.

We hope you settle in quickly and enjoy living at Burrows house.

Update 15.2.2019

Anti-Bullying

Bullying is not tolerated in the house- by anyone, or to anyone!
If you are being bullied, please make sure that you speak with one of the adults who can offer you support with this, whether this is your staff team, or the management team.
We have put key-work sessions into place to help prevent bullying and to give you a better understanding of what bullying is. We don't want you to feel isolated or unhappy in your home and that is why it is so important that you talk to us.

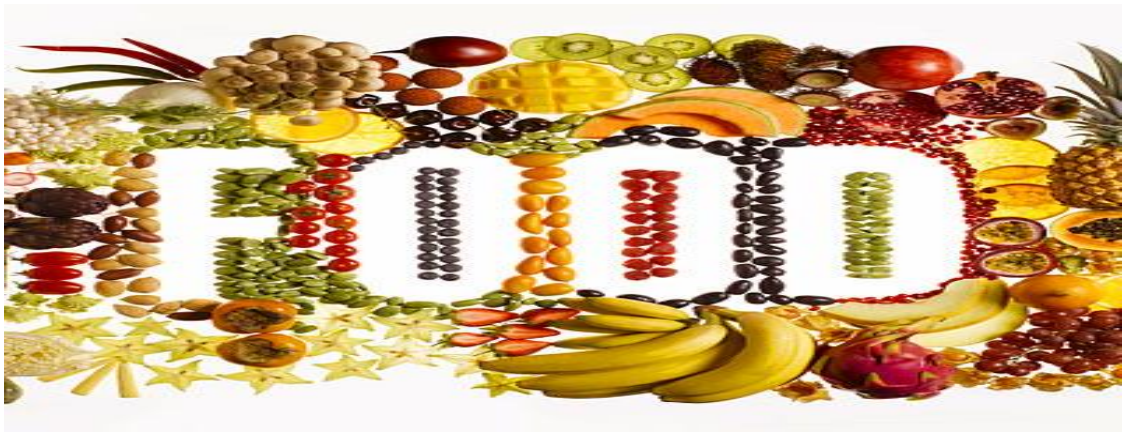

We promise to ensure that we give everyone in the home a caring, friendly and safe environment by treating everyone with respect and by addressing any incidences of bullying.

Update 15.2.2019

Make a NO!SE about bullying

No one likes to be told that they can't eat any of the food that they like (most of us like a huge slice of cake or a massive Sunday roast!), and once you have arrived and settled in to the home you will have the opportunity to discuss what kind of meals you like, as well as snacks you enjoy. We will work together with you and everyone else in the house to put together a menu for the week.

We will make sure that there is food that you like and will give you plenty of opportunities to try out new foods as well as foods from different cultures such as Chinese, Indian and Mexican – we will also aim to do themed nights where we can embrace other cultures!

It is important to us that, as you are still growing and developing, you get a balanced and healthy diet. This doesn't mean that we will be giving you a bowl of lettuce or a banana for dinner, it means that we will try and include tasty fruit and veg into your diet, as well as creating tasty but also healthy meals.

If you love cooking or want to start learning, the adults in the house will definitely be pleased for you to help them in the kitchen, who knows what amazing dishes you could be capable of putting together!

Diversity

We are fortunate to live in a place where we are surrounded with people with different cultures, backgrounds and life experiences. At Newbury House we respect that all individuals are unique and we all have our own opinions and beliefs.

We will always be there to listen if you feel that someone has discriminated against you, whether that be because of your sexual orientation, the colour of your skin, your religious beliefs, because you have a disability… and the list goes on.

You have the right to be the individual that you want to be and no one can take that away from you. At this home, we will try and support you in any decisions you want to make about your beliefs and positive lifestyle changes.

Remember- no type of discrimination is acceptable and we certainly don't accept it here, so if you feel personally discriminated against by another child or adult in the house or you think that someone else has been discriminated against, we are here for you to talk to us.

Update 15.2.2019

Education

Education is so important and can be the foundation of whatever career you want to pursue when you are older. We will always support you in all aspects of education where we can; including finding something that you are passionate about learning. We want you to achieve as much as you can and have all the opportunities that life has to offer.

Any educational achievements will be rewarded. We want the best for you.

It is our responsibility at the home to also educate you on personal health, housekeeping, budgeting and basic cooking skills so that we can prepare you for when you eventually live independently.

Although schooling will mostly take place within a school environment, it is not just limited to there and we will be happy to discuss your progress or any concerns that you have about your education. You also have the opportunity to work towards really useful OCN (Open College Network) Life Skills, which is a recognised and practical qualification.

Update 15.2.2019

Keywork

Whilst you are settling in to the home, your key-worker will be introduced to you, they will always have your best interest at heart and will have weekly sessions with you to discuss topics that are going to help you to deal with your current issues, talk one-to-one with someone about any problems you have and to give you advice when they can.

The topics will vary and we want you to enjoy them rather than dread them. Therefore, we will ensure that the key-work sessions are not always the same and that they can include both practical and discussion based sessions.

Update 15.2.2019

Incentives

As everyone wants their home environment to be a happy and fun one, we will be awarding you with points for good behavior and for helping out in the house with your chores as well as being consistent in attending your education.

These points mean that you can then be rewarded after you have built up a certain amount and these rewards can vary depending on what you and the staff feel that you can work towards.

That's right- all you have to do is be well-behaved and respectful, go to school and behave there and do some cleaning and you can earn rewards!!

Unfortunately, if you do behave accordingly it can mean that these rewards don't happen or that you are given a sanction. We certainly don't want this to have to happen and so it's a win- win situation for everyone if you continue to engage positively with the homes rules and the staff.

Activities- the really fun stuff!

We love activities as much as you do and we provide a range of leisure, sporting and cultural activities for you to choose from. We want everyone to be included in deciding what activities we'll be doing and how great would it be if you could try something that you have never done before?

Within the house we have lots of board games and you can relax and watch TV in the living room.

There are a number of local places around Nottingham such as Derby, Leicester and Sheffield and we are always happy to look into any activities that you want to take part in with them. As well as this, we get to go on some great days out which could include:

Update 15.2.2019

And lots more… we'd love to hear your ideas ☺

Complaints and Suggestions

We want you to be happy in Burrows House and what you think is always important to us, whether you really enjoyed something or you're unhappy. Even if you feel that you have been treated unfairly by a member of staff, we want to hear about it.

We also want to know what you think could be changed to make your home a happier environment. Your suggestions are always respected.

Update 15.2.2019

In the education room we have a complaints and suggestion box where you can complete a form and put it in confidentially. You key-worker can support you with doing this if you want their help.

It is our responsibility to ensure that your complaint is:-

- Investigated
- Handled quickly
- Sympathetically
- And most importantly under confidential terms

All complaints will be investigated and a resolution and outcome provided within 10 working days

All complaints are handled seriously and we will try to provide an appropriate outcome for you but if you aren't satisfied with this, you do have the right to contact an advocate, your independent reviewing officer or Children's Rights Director (Ofsted).
